Free Seminar for Business Professionals:

A New Generation of Employees: Mentoring Your Millennials

Every company wants to tap into a new generation of talent, but have you figured out how to do this successfully? Fox Communities Credit Union will host two sessions of a free seminar for business professionals on learning how to overcome generational gaps with other employees. Attendees will also learn how to make sure they are satisfying their generation Y employees while still retaining their greatest veteran employees. Other topics include how to mentor this new group of talent as well as ways that business professionals can successfully market towards this booming generation of consumers.

Join us on Tuesday, June 10 at the Urban Hope Entrepreneur Center, 439 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, or on Thursday, June 12 at Fox Communities Credit Union, 3401 E. Calumet St., Appleton. Each seminar will begin at 7:30 a.m. and end at approximately 9:00 a.m.

The seminar is presented by Kristi Millhiser, SPHR. Kristi has served as a learning and organizational development resource for organizations of all sizes, ranging from small firms to Fortune 100 companies. Kristi is a seasoned professional, engaging trainer, entertaining presenter, creative designer and effective consultant who delivers tangible results to participants, clients and colleagues across various industries.

Register for this informative business seminar at: <http://www.foxcu.org/seminarsworkshops3.html> or by calling Susan at (920) 419-8531. This seminar is free and open to the public.
