Northern Paper Mills Credit Union in Green Bay Partners with Fox Communities Credit Union!

On June 2, 2020, Northern Paper Mills Credit Union will open as Fox Communities Credit Union as the merger between the credit unions was completed over the weekend. Northern Paper Mills Credit Union has one location in Green Bay on the corner of Day and Jackson Streets and will remain open. This partnership results in 23 locations from the Green Bay area through the Fox Valley and surrounding areas for all members.

Maureen Bartley, former President of NPMCU says, “Northern Paper Mills Credit Union has always kept the interest of our members in the forefront of our minds. The decision to partner with Fox Communities Credit Union came with much thought and care for our members and staff. They provide exceptional member service with a family-like culture, like us. This merger allows our members additional convenience by providing 10 locations in the Green Bay area, and more in surrounding communities. All NPMCU employees are now part of the Fox Communities team providing financial services to the community.”

Fox Communities Credit Union President Chris Allen stated, “Fox is excited to welcome the members of Northern Paper Mills Credit Union. Both credit unions share a deep understanding of our commitment to members and the communities we serve. New to the members at NPMCU will be an auto buying program, business lending program, financial planning and even a first-time home buying program. This partnership shows how credit unions continue to work together to improve and expand product and service offerings for all members.”

The combined credit unions now employ over 430 team members who serve over 107,000 members, have $2 billion in assets, and support 23 branch locations. As a member owned financial institution, Fox Communities Credit Union prioritizes people over profits. Fox has and will continue its commitment to remain a vital part of the communities we serve, through our support and involvement.
